New Data on MassOpenBooks.org

On September 15th, Pioneer Institute released its brand new Transparency website:

www.MassOpenBooks.org

This online tool gives you access to state government data: what state employees make, who is getting what kind of pension, and payments made by government agencies to businesses and people. Also, you can compare data from people, departments and unions.

Today, we are releasing additional years of data:

EMPLOYEE SALARIES FROM 2003-2008 AND PAYMENTS TO VENDORS FROM 2007-2009

Visit MassOpenBooks.org to track changes in individual salaries, promotions, or payments made to a specific vendor over time.

Because It's Your Money and Your Government.
